Friday March 9th Update

Seven days in, approximately 25% of residents are still without power. JCP&L is now saying that the Estimated Time Of Restoration is Saturday, March 10 at 11:30pm.

There are bucket trucks in town so hopefully more restorations will be completed today. If your power is restored, please post that information on social media.

The North Warren HS warming center is open from 3pm to 8pm. Warm food and hot showers are available.

Further updates will be posted as we have new information to share.
