Monday March 12 Update - Morning

There are currently work crews at Ahlers Lane and Camp Mason working to get those 2 locations restored. As far as we know right now, those are the last places in town without power at the start of today. When they are back on line Hardwick will be 100% restored. However, if you know of anyone still without power, contact us immediately and we will forward that address to JCP&L.

Century Link crews are also in town repairing and restoring downed telephone wires. Please report any dangerous downed wire locations in town to us and we will report the locations to Century Link and JCPL.

Service Electric customers must call Service Electric directly to restore cable service. That number is 800 992-0132. You should call that number everyday until your service is restored.

We are not in the clear just yet as we're tracking a storm that could turn our way tonight with more heavy snow and high winds. Let's keep our fingers crossed that it amounts to nothing.....

The Hardwick monthly Committee meeting originally scheduled for last Wednesday, March 7, has been rescheduled for tonight at 7pm. As always, the public is encouraged to attend.
