Thursday March 8 Update

On a call with JCPL this morning I again emphasized the need for restoring power throughout the town. The DPW department has just returned to town hall after doing a drive around and reports that repair crews are at Hardwick Road and Maple Lane only. I am waiting for JCP&L to provide us with more specific information on when more crews will be on the ground here in town and the most current Estimated Time Of Restoration. As soon as they provide that detail I will share it.

A reminder that Hardwick town hall is open for warming, charging and water today from 10am - 5pm today and depending on what happens today, may be open tomorrow. We will decide that later today once we receive updated restoration data.

North Warren HS is also open today from 9am - 9pm and is providing food and beverages.
