Wednesday March 7 Update Morning

There is a winter storm warning in effect through this evening. Snow accumulation is expected to be 10" to 14" in our area. Traveling conditions will be extremely hazardous as the day goes on so please exercise caution if you must be on the road.

Hardwick Town Hall will be open today as a warming center, recharging station and water distribution site beginning at 9:30am. We will be open until 3pm or until road conditions are too dangerous. Please check local social media for the hours that North Warren HS will be open.

We will be posting updates during the day.
